

BEYOND THE BOOK

Lex Drás, Author of "It's Mama's Fault!"

Curtailing the number of Illegitimate Births in this country, by installing specific Principles in children, is the ultimate objective of The M. F. Prevention Project and what it will achieve. In order to accept the "WHAT," we will achieve, you must begin to understand the "WHY" it is significant and the reasoning behind it. This reasoning moves through the importance of Problem-Solving skills, Life's Realities, the Value of Pain, the Home Environment, Installing Principles and the Concept to bring The M. F. Prevention Project to fruition.

PROBLEMS, WHO CARES!

Who cares if Problem-Solving Principles greatly enhance the quality of lives? Well, you should care, if not for you then definitely for the next moron that has the potential to impact your life... in the negative! Believe me when I tell you that there are more morons out here than you may think, with that ability. For instance, you may not think about drunk driving laws and being pulled over by the police because you don't drink. However, just because you don't drink, does that mean that another fool will not get behind the wheel, extremely inebriated, drift into on-coming traffic and kill your whole family? Of course not! The point is that bad things will continue to happen to good people, to include you! Therefore, it is not about avoiding the "bad things" that will surely arise, it is about your ability to handle them as they arise... handily. This is not being negative this is being real! Understanding the value of Problem-Solving Principles, and caring that as many people as possible should learn them too, is not just in your interest but also all of Society.

LIFE DOES NOT CARE

Again, let's be real with one another. LIFE doesn't care how spiritually aligned you are or that you are a good person or that you don't bother anyone. None of those things matter! The storms will still come, the waves will still crash into your life; there will be times when you've done everything right and it still rains on your parade! With that said, anyone who tells you or a child, "just think positive and everything will be okay," is living in a fantasy world and seriously delusional OR horrible misinformed about what it really takes to be successful in a chosen endeavor. What are those delusional people trying to tell us, not to live? Any time you "step out" (living!) into life, we run the risk of knocking up against someone who does not have our same values. There is more to LIFE than "just thinking positive." Sure, it is a dynamic point of all achievement but not a static end-all, be-all. We all must also DO something(s); faith without works is dead! Understanding that "We all must also DO something(s)" to make our lives work by taking total responsibility for our actions is so important in becoming prepared, for anything.

It has been said: It is not what happens to you, in life, that determines whether you fail or succeed, it is how you react to what happens that makes all the difference in the world! How you react is a function of the development of your Problem-Solving skills. I'm going to take it a step before, those actual events in life, and say: It's the what and how we prepare for the inevitable events in our lives that determines the Quality of our lives; preparation is the key. From birth to the grave, we are always in some stage of preparation for life.

However, we all know, to some degree, that how we prepare for life today (even as grueling and difficult as preparation always seems in the beginning) will have a tremendous effect on how well we solve problems in the future.

PAIN IS GOOD!

There will always be PAIN in life. It is only a question of whether it is Good Pain or Bad Pain or as the old adage goes: You can either pay me now or pay me later. We all know (well, not everybody!) that paying now is far less painful than paying later because the price is so much higher and the terms more severe! As an adult, you have made decisions to live your life as it stands today. You have either chosen the option of, One, going through the PAIN of preparing for a fulfilling future (the Pain of Success), to obtain what you have today or; Two, you are currently experiencing the PAIN of not correctly solving problems in the past (mistakes that you could have avoided [the Pain of Regret]) thus heavily inhibiting your choices today. Children learn about the two types of PAIN from their environment; the “what to do’s” and the “what not to do’s.” To the degree of “What” they have learned transfers into their adulthood, reflected in their actions and in their quality of life. The environment starts in the Home and “should” be the place where such values are installed. Based upon the statistical reports today about Illegitimate Births, the values being taught seem very questionable. How do we know? The Proof-is-in-the-Pudding!

HOME IS WHERE IT STARTS

The Home (the CONTROLLED environment [was suppose to be!]) is where we went through our trials, tribulations and PAIN, as children, and it formed the basis for building HIGH SELF-ESTEEM (feeling great about ourselves) and Character within us as adults. It is this High Self-Esteem that enables us to BELIEVE that we can accomplish anything within the realm of our imagination. We also are all aware of a child whose Self-Esteem has been crushed and the continuing problems it is causing in their lives as adults. Which do you think is better, High Self-Esteem or Low Self-Esteem? Dahh! What a dumb question, right? Low Self-Esteem happens for a reason and the great thing is that it does not need to be that way. Although High Self-Esteem is THE most important of the Seven Foundational Fundamental Principles, it is next to last in its development and implementation. The poor development, or lack, of the other Foundational Fundamental Principles, is a primary factor in why Illegitimate Births occur during the teen years and early twenties, in the first place. Older women, who follow-through with Illegitimate Births, suffer from a lack of the actual Principle that should have been cultivated as a child; High Self-Esteem! We propose a systematic approach to the development of the Foundational Fundamental Principles, in children, with emphasis on High Self-Esteem, to seriously reduce and avoid such Illegitimate Births, amongst other debacles, in the future.

INSTALLING PRINCIPLES

Installing Foundational Fundamental Principles into young children is paramount. So powerful that when these children are confronted with various choices in the future, certain behaviors, leading to our disastrous predicament today, do not fit and therefore alters their future for the positive. Repeatedly, research has shown that kids with High Self-Esteem are tremendously less likely to engage in activities or follow-through with decisions that will destroy their futures and, in part, the degradation of Society. As stated in “Free Books for Everyone,” this is the ultimate objective of The M. F. Prevention Project. The Project is the solution and implementation phase of what we believe to be the root of the problem (a lack of Self-Respect and low High Self-Esteem). All additional proceeds, beyond The M. F. Book Project Essentials, will go towards developing a National Program with a Local Presence.

CONCEPT PLANNING

Initially, we will create an “Administrative Endowment” to support the needs of the organization and a top-notch team of Executive talent. We will charge a National Administrative Team with the duty of coordinating Independent National Organizations with selected Local Professional Staff, to implement “The Program.” Local Professional Staff, emanating from a cross-section of disciplines, will be the backbone of our program because they will have daily, in-depth contact, with the children. The Local Professional Staff will foster a “village” environment of nurturing, learning and examples of success, in large metropolitan centers, like Atlanta, Georgia. The next phase will be to duplicate that model in other parts of the country, like Washington, D.C.; Boston, Massachusetts and St. Louis, Missouri; to name a few. The Local Staffs and National Organizations will work together by first creating A CONSISTENT PRESENCE (Local Staffs) teaching the Foundational Fundamental Principles and then MULTIPLE ENTITIES (National Organizations) addressing all the components of The Five Basic Aspects of Life. This set-up could be likened to a High School Home Room (the consistent presence) and the students circulating through the other subject matters during the rest of the day (the multiple entities).

Charles J. Givens (wrote the book Wealth without Risk) once said, “Most of what we need to know about life and how to make it work successfully, we’ve never been taught.” I got an idea! Why don’t we teach it... what a concept! During the same interview, he went on further to say, “...When you’ve got knowledge, I feel it’s our responsibility as Human Beings to share that knowledge with other people.” As part of my responsibility to Society, I MUST share the incredible importance of the “Foundational Fundamental Principles” and the “Basic Aspects of Life” with the youth of this country, as early an age as possible. I can attest to the power of these “Principles” and “Aspects” because they have contributed significantly to the success of my own life and I am certain they can in others too.

“The Program” we will put forth is a monumental project but turning the problem of Illegitimate Births around through a generational, mindset shift is an absolute must! If you believe there is a better approach, by all means “bring it,” let’s discuss it, I’m sure we can incorporate those ideas into the program. Otherwise, until then, please join us in this project of a lifelong journey towards enlightening the next generation and BEYOND. YOUR future depends on it! Our future depends on it!
